Why Panthers?

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

AREA CODE FOR ALL PITT NUMBERS IS 412

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar Chancellor

During his eight years as chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Wesley W. Posvar has secured a reputation as Pitt's top sports fan. He often travels with Pitt's teams to their out-of-town contests and is a familiar visitor after the games and at practice sessions.

He has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen's Association; two of his most cherished treasures are a football the players presented to him after the first victory of the 1973 season and a poster showing a Panther and a sunburst (in honor of Pitt's Fiesta Bowl bid) executed by his youngest daughter.

Dr. Posvar is a former college athlete and believes in intercollegiate sports within the framework of the academic structure. He also believes in winning.

"Academically," Dr. Posvar told a group of sportswriters on one away trip, "Pitt is one of the finest universities in the country. That's a fact and we mean to keep it that way. But let me tell you something — we're going to have sports teams to match, and that goes for every sport, starting with football and working down the line. That's a pledge."

Dr. Posvar has kept his word. Pitt has recorded six consecutive overall winning sports seasons, and its teams have gained national recognition for Pitt.

In addition, while the athletic teams have sparkled, under his guidance the University has continued to grow academically. Just last year Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, an elite group of universities who are judged to be of exceptional academic standing.

A former Rhodes Scholar and Chairman of the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy, Dr. Posvar is Pitt's 15th chancellor. He holds five academic degrees and his scholarly achievements have gained him national attention.

Dr. Posvar graduated first in his class from West Point in 1946, achieving one of the highest grades in the Academy's history. He subsequently was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University from 1948-51, receiving both his B.A. and M.A. in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. He also earned the Master of Public Administration and Ph.D. in political science from Harvard in 1964.

Casimir J. Myslinski Director of Athletics

He promised a solid, winning athletic program. And, he delivered.

In a big, big way.

"Pitt athletics should be on top and my aim is to bring the program back to the heights it deserves," Cas Myslinski told his first press conference shortly after being named Pitt Athletic Director in 1968. Obviously, Myslinski meant what he said.

In his first full year as Athletic Director, Pitt completed its best athletic season in 11 years. Since then, Panther teams have achieved six consecutive winning years, capped the past two years with a bowl appearance in football, two post-season tournament spots in basketball, and numerous All-Americans.

It all has sparked renewed interest in Pitt athletics both locally and nationally — which has meant increased attendance at athletic events and additional student and alumni support.

Besides a solid program for the men's team, Myslinski has spearheaded a total revision of the women's program. It has included upgraded staff, facilities and schedules, in addition to scholarships for the first time to female athletes. In short, it is one of the more dynamic and growing women's athletic programs in the nation.

Myslinski wants Pitt to be a winner in every way. That's the way he started at Army. He entered West Point in September 1941 in the last pre-World War II class. Under the stepped-up wartime program he graduated in three years with a B.S. in engineering and pilot wings. Later he earned a Master's in Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Myslinski captained the 1943 Army team and earned their Most Valuable Player award that year. He was named to every first-team All-American squad at center and received the Knute Rockne Award as the nation's Outstanding Lineman of 1943.

Following graduation from West Point in 1944, he entered the Air Force. In 1952 he returned to West Point as Deputy Head of the Department of Physical Education and moved from there in 1956 to Head of the Department of Physical Education at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Born in Steubenville, Ohio, Cas and his wife Sandy, have two married daughters, Linda and Patricia (both graduates of Pitt), a son Michael 21, and a daughter Dorothy 19.

This is Pittsburgh

Whether you've seen the beautiful new high-rise fountain, the dramatic skyline, the green city parks, or the nearby countryside, you already know about Pittsburgh.

You drive cars built with Pittsburgh's steel. You use appliances created and built in Pittsburgh. You are constantly affected by Pittsburgh's people and products because some of the nation's top million-dollar companies are located at the juncture of three rivers — the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Ohio.

The company names are familiar: United States Steel, National Steel, J&L Steel, Alcoa Corporation, Gulf Oil, H.J. Heinz, Koppers Company, Calgon Corporation, Westinghouse, Rockwell International, and so on.

But did you know that the second largest employer in the City is in the specialized business of teaching and learning? That employer is the University of Pittsburgh which utilizes a staff of nearly 6,000 full-time persons, including 2,100 full-time faculty members, 550 part-time faculty and more than 1,465 part-time technical and professional personnel.

In addition to being a business capital, Pittsburgh is also a sports capital. A big league city. The Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers football team. The Pittsburgh Pirates who are veterans of National League baseball playoffs. The Stanley Cup quarter finalist Pittsburgh Penguins Hockey Club. And, the World Team Tennis' Pittsburgh Triangles with graceful Evonne Goolagong.

But, some of the city's biggest winners attend the University of Pittsburgh. The Panther football team recorded a 7-4 season last year and continues to gain national recognition. The Pitt basketball team was the NCAA Eastern Regional finalist in 1974 and NIT quarter-finalist in 1975. Pitt's wrestling team finished the regular season with an 8-4 record and sophomore Rande Stottlemeyer repeated his All-America status for the second time. The track team has earned national and international fame and now the women's inter-collegiate athletic program is one of the best women's programs in the nation.

Former Pitt tight end and baseball pitcher George Medich even carries the success to the professional level. He was the top pitcher for the New York Yankees last year with 19 wins. Medich is currently completing work in Pitt's School of Medicine.

While Pitt gains national interest by its athletics and the city of Pittsburgh plays such a huge role in the American business world, the University of Pittsburgh affects the nation in another way — academics. Nearly every person in the Pittsburgh area calls on Pitt graduates for professional services — medicine, dentistry, nursing, legal counseling, and business.

The Pitt diploma is not only recognized for its excellence in the professions, but in other fields. Undergraduate students can take active interest in majors from English to Black Studies, from Computer Science to Psychology, from Elementary Education to vocational teaching.

Pitt students also pursue degrees in fields from Health and Physical Education to Chemical Engineering, from Urban Studies to Speech, Communications and Theater Arts.

Students and Student-Athletes at Pitt can even study a self designed major — one that they create to suit their career and enrichment plans.

Simply said, students at Pitt can learn business in a business community, music in a cultured environment, teaching in an academic area and professional services in a city that requires and rewards such services.

Pitt finds itself a part of a city with thriving industry, flowering beauty, a symphony, ballet and opera, entertainment spots to suit many moods, rock concerts, a zoo, a huge museum and also successful sports team — including those whose uniforms proudly shout "Pitt Panthers!"

John Majors

Head Football Coach

Near the end of World War II, a mere eight-year-old Johnny Majors first displayed the flair that today makes him one of the most dynamic coaches in all of college football.

A national military scrap iron drive was on then and Majors organized it in his hometown of Huntland, Tennessee. When it came time to tally-up the results, eight-year-old Johnny Majors not only had done an excellent organizational job but also led Huntland in individual scrap iron collected.

Johnny Majors was a lad on the move then, and he is a man on the move now.

John Majors

And, he's taken every football program he's touched right along with him.

He's highly motivated. He's enthusiastic. He wants things done yesterday. He can recruit. He's tireless. He can communicate. He's got a magic about him. He's got charisma. And most importantly of all, he can coach.

It's taken all this, and more, to author the dramatic turnaround in Pitt football the last two years.

And while Majors hasn't done it alone, he's provided the spark.

Renewed student interest was immediate. He rejuvenated alumni interest and in two years the Golden Panther Booster Club has grown from 300 to well over 2,000 members and quadrupled its fund raising efforts. Facilities have undergone refurbishing and the Pitt locker room and stadium areas can favorably compare with any in the country. Season ticket sales have doubled since his arrival and could set an all-time record this year.

Majors' remarkable job prompted Playboy Magazine's renown prognosticator, Anson Mount, to choose Majors his 1975 pre-season national Coach-of-the-Year. Mount, who calls Majors "the Bear Bryant of the next decade," points out that his Coach-of-the-Year selection is not a prophesy, but a reward for the job a coach has done recently in building or rebuilding a weak football program.

Johnny Majors surely qualifies.

First came the Cinderella 1973 season which saw the Panthers put together their first winning season in 11 years and earn their first Bowl (Fiesta) bid in 17 years. It brought many personal honors to Majors including the Pittsburgh Dapper Dan Club's prestigious award, Coach-of-the-Year commendation by both the U. S. Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation, and selection as a head coach in the All-America game in Lubbock, Texas. Majors followed that with a second consecutive winning (7-4) season in 1974. In addition, the Panthers made an appearance on national television for the first time since 1963 and attendance jumped 10,000 (42,000) over the '73 average.

Majors has coached two Pitt All-Americans (Tony Dorsett (twice) and Gary Burley) and the future generally looks brighter than it has in quite some time at Pitt.

But, then, success has been following Majors like a shadow since he was a young man organizing scrap iron drives.

Majors actually began waving his magic wand in the toughest conference of all — the Big Eight.

Seven years ago he took a down-trodden Iowa State team and in just five years took them to two bowl games. He was named Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year in 1971 by both wire services and Grid-iron Magazine. He also coached the North team in the North-South Shrine Game in Miami. After taking the Cyclones to the Liberty Bowl in 1972, he accepted the Pitt job.

Heading "The Major Change In Pitt Football," he didn't disappoint anybody.

Wife's Name and Hometown: Mary Lynn (Barnwell) Majors of Chattanooga, Tennessee

Children: John Ireland, 11; Mary Elizabeth, 9.

A member of one of the most famous football families in America, John was destined to carry on family tradition. His father, Shirley, is a very successful coach at the University of the South. Two of his brothers, Bill and Bobby, were great stars at Tennessee, while brother Joe went on to star at Florida State. Larry, who didn't play college ball, went on to become a successful scholastic coach. And, his sister, Shirley Ann, also made a football contribution as a cheerleader.

Johnny, though, was the biggest star. An All-America tailback at Tennessee, he led the Vols to a 10-0 record in 1956, a 2nd national ranking, and a trip to the Sugar Bowl. He also finished second to Paul Hornung in the Heisman Trophy balloting. Majors was twice named MVP in the Southeast Conference and his name is splattered throughout the Tennessee record book (see career stats). He is also a charter honoree in the Tennessee Hall of Fame.

Following graduation, Majors began coaching as an assistant at his alma mater, before moving to Mississippi State. He went to Arkansas as Frank Broyles defensive back coach in 1963, where he stayed until he got the Iowa State job in 1968.

Majors is married to the former Mary Lynn Barnwell of Chattanooga, Tennessee. He and his wife have two children — John Ireland, 11, and Mary Elizabeth, 9. Majors, 40, resides in the Fox Chapel area of Pittsburgh.

Look For Just About Anything

Johnny Majors says he's excited, and can't wait for it all to start.

But, don't get the wrong idea. He's not, repeat not, predicting any national championship; and, in fact, is not even forecasting an improved record. What he is saying is that just about anything could happen this season and that should make for excitement for both coaches and fans alike.

"This team could go either way," Majors predicts of his third Pitt football edition. "We're no cinch to be a winner or a loser. We're going to be exciting, but I honestly don't know how many games we're going to win. We'll be a better team than last year but our schedule is a challenging one. I know it's going to be interesting and I can't wait to get going."

That giant third step could be the toughest of them all.

Six wins in 1973. Seven wins in 1974. That's the dramatic rebuilding record at Pitt under Majors the last two years. But that giant third step in 1975 could be the toughest of them all.

Pitt will return a large squad of 38 lettermen from last year's 7-4 Eastern runner-up team, but only 12 of those players were starters. The breakdown shows six regulars returning on offense and six on defense. All of which means, there are plenty of holes to fill on both units.

Majors is also concerned about a glaring lack of seniors on the squad. A total of 13 seniors are listed on the roster and only three of those were regulars last year — split receiver Karl Farmer, defensive end Tom Perko and defensive safety Dennis Moorhead.

"This is the smallest contingent of seniors I've had in my 18 years of coaching college football," he notes. "We had outstanding senior leadership last season and we need some people to step to the front and take their place."

While there is genuine concern over the lack of experience on both offense and defense, there are reasons for real optimism about the potential of both units. On paper, at least, the ability appears to be there to get the job done.

Offensively, Pitt could well field one of the quickest and perhaps best running backfields in college football. The Panther flyboys are led by prime Heisman Trophy candidate, Tony Dorsett. All Dorsett has done in two years is rush for 2,690 yards (5.0 average) and 24 touchdowns en route to two-year All-America honors and numerous Pitt and national records.

Pitt could field one of the best running backfields in College football.

Besides Dorsett, who runs a 4.4 in the 40, the Panthers will show off last year's regular fullback Bobby Hutton (4.6 in the 40) and freshman sensation Elliott Walker (4.4 in the 40) who averaged 6.8 yards per carry in a limited role on the varsity last year.

Now add the speed and running ability of junior quarterback Bob Haygood and you've got a backfield that should light up a few scoreboards. Haygood, incidentally, has run a 4.5 in the 40, and proved in Spring drills to be an outstanding option-type runner.

With the available speed in the backfield, Majors and his offensive staff installed the Veer offense during Pitt's Spring drills, and that will be the Panthers' basic means of attack this fall.

"I'm concerned about changing the offense from the I to the Veer but that's something we had to do," Majors says. "The Veer suits our personnel best. We have speed and we have good running backs."

Quarterback was a top order of priority during Spring drills but the performances of junior Bob Haygood and sophomore Matt Cavanaugh eased the apprehensions somewhat. Still, neither Haygood or Cavanaugh have thrown a varsity pass and their inexperience could show in the early games.

Haygood is expected to get the nod off his superior running ability, but Cavanaugh possesses a good throwing arm and showed progress in Spring drills with the option game.

"We're going to be outmuscled up front most of the time."

When the quarterbacks decide to throw, they will be aiming at a corps of receivers that could rank among the best in the East. Pitt has both speed and experience in the vital receiving area.

Heading the corps of receivers are Karl Farmer, an Eastern 440 track champion who caught 18 passes for 285 yards and 4 TDs last season at split end; and tight end Jim Corbett who improved tremendously last year while catching 16 aerials for 202 yards and 1 TD. Pushing them will be flanker Rodney Clark, split end Willie Taylor, flanker Randy Reutershan and tight end Jinx Johnson.

While there is excitement and potential in the so-called 'skilled areas', there is concern and lack of experience up front in the offensive line. Just two starters return from the interior of the line — Tom Brzoza (So., 6-3, 230) at guard, and Joe Stone (Jr., 6-4, 250) at tackle.

"We'll have a young, green offensive line and our quarterbacks are going to make mistakes," Majors notes. "We're also going to be outmuscled up front most of the time. So, we do have a lot of work to do before the season gets under-way."

Defensively, Pitt isn't making any radical changes, sticking to a basic 52 with a three-deep secondary. Look, however, for a wider variety of defensive looks than the Panthers have shown in the past two years.

Just six of 11 regulars return on defense, leaving several glaring holes to fill. Chief among them are in the secondary where two of three starters are gone, and at middle guard where All-American Gary Burley has reigned supreme the past two campaigns.

Returning regulars are: Tom Perko (Sr., 6-3, 238) and Cecil Johnson (Jr., 6-2, 220) at end; Don Parrish (Jr., 6-4, 245) and Al Romano (Jr., 6-3, 230) at tackle; Arnie Weatherington (Jr., 6-0, 194) at linebacker, and Dennis Moorhead (Sr., 6-1, 195) at safety.

Lack of depth could be a severe problem if the injury bug hits.

"We want to line up and slow people down a little better than we did last year," Majors emphasizes. "Again, we have a lot of work to do because we lost some key people. I'm concerned with the middle of our defense and our overall lack of depth."

With few exceptions, the lack of depth could be a severe problem for Pitt if the injury bug would hit hard.

And now, about that schedule. The Panthers open at Georgia and follow that by traveling to Oklahoma. The two closing games are with Notre Dame and Penn State. In between, no patsies.

It's no wonder Majors is walking a straight line when it comes to predictions. Even Jimmy the Greek might not want to take a shot on this one.

The defense causes a fumble . . . while Dorsett moves the offense.

Spring Game

A two-yard run by All-America halfback Tony Dorsett gave the Golds a thrilling 21-17 victory over the Blues in the windup of Spring drills before 7,283 fans in Pitt Stadium.

In all, Dorsett rushed for 157 yards on 22 carries for the Golds, while teammates Bob Hutton had 142 yards on 24 carries and Matt Cavanaugh added 61 yards on 13 tries. Sophomore quarterback Cavanaugh completed 8-23 passes for 90 yards and 1 TD.

For the Blues, junior quarterback Bob Haygood and sophomore halfback Elliott Walker gave good accounts of themselves. Haygood rushed for 88 yards on 14 carries while passing 6-13 for 53 yards. Walker added 104 yards rushing on nine tries before suffering a minor injury.

For the second consecutive year, media sports personalities coached the two teams while Majors viewed the action from the pressbox. This Spring, Pittsburgh Press Sports Editor Pat Livingston guided the winning Gold team, while WIICTV Sports Director Sam Nover watched his coaching record drop to 0-1.

In an intra-squad scrimmage held in Hershey two weeks earlier, the Blues defeated the Golds, 21-18, before 9,200 Central Pennsylvania fans.

In that game, Walker rushed for 171 yards (26 carries), Dorsett had 131 yards (19 carries) and Haygood added 127 (24 tries). Cavanaugh completed 11 of 22 passes for 150 yards in a losing effort.

Ed Conway Memorial

John Pelusi

Junior center John Pelusi and senior defensive end Randy Cozens were named co-winners of the first annual Ed Conway Memorial Award given to the most improved players during Pitt's Spring football drills.

Football Coach Johnny Majors presented the two Panther athletes with plaques at the halftime of the April 26 Blue-Gold game which wound up 20 days of spring practice for Pitt.

The award will be presented annually in memory of former WTAE-TV sportscaster Ed Conway. A broadcaster in Pittsburgh for 11 years and the 'Voice of Pitt Football' for four seasons, Ed passed away last Summer.

Randy Cozens

Both Pelusi and Cozens were reserves last season, but earned starting jobs during Spring drills. Pelusi is a 6-2, 235-pounder from Chaney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, while Cozens is a 6-4, 220-pounder from Scottsdale, Ariz. and Mesa Junior College in Phoenix Ariz.

"Pelusi had an outstanding Spring and improved on his blocking and overall performance," Majors noted.

Majors also had high praise for Cozens.

"Randy has made great improvement from last Fall," the Panther boss says. "We expect him to be a sound football player for us."

A Look at the Assistant Coaches:

Jackie Sherrill
Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Coordinator
University of Alabama '66

Jackie Sherrill heads what Johnny Majors has called "the finest young coaching staff in America." As Coach Majors' right hand man, Jackie coordinates the workload for the staff.

Jackie was promoted to the position of assistant head coach and defensive coordinator in 1970 at Iowa State and retained those responsibilities when he moved to Pitt two years ago with Majors.

He is now widely regarded as one of the most outstanding assistant coaches in college football.

Winning has become a way of life for Sherrill. He played on two "bowl" teams in high school, was a member of two National teams in college and has coached four college bowl squads.

At Biloxi High School in Mississippi, he started his career as honorable mention All-American and an All-Stater. He entered Alabama where he played seven different positions — mainly linebacker and fullback. A three-year letterman for Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide, he was a member of the 1964 and 1965 national Championship teams and captained the 29-28 Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska in 1966. He played in the 1964 and 1965 Sugar Bowls and the 1966 Orange Bowl.

Following graduation in 1966 he began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Alabama. In 1967 he moved to Arkansas as freshman defensive coach and also helped with the varsity defensive secondary. Majors named him to the Iowa State staff in 1968, and two years later he was promoted to Assistant Head Coach and defensive coordinator.

Along with coordinating Pitt's Basic 50, or "mad-dog" defense, Jackie coaches the linebackers Jackie and his wife, Daryle, were married during Jackie's first football season at Pitt. They reside in Squirrel Hill.

George Haffner
Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks
McNeese State University '67

In his first season at Pitt two years ago, George Haffner directed a Panther offense that set a school record for total offense (3,805 yards). That in itself tells you something about George Haffner.

A frequent lecturer on quarterbacks at high school and college clinics, George is one of the most respected men on the Pitt coaching staff — respected not only by players, fans and members of the media, but most importantly, by his fellow coaches.

This year George faces the task of coordinating an offense that contains an inexperienced and young offensive line, with one of the most explosive backfields in the country.

A former Notre Dame and Baltimore Colt quarterback, George specializes in coaching the signal-callers, and under his direction, Pitt's Billy Daniels became one of the top option quarterbacks in the East. This year George will be challenged by the lack of varsity experience by his two leading quarterback candidates — Robert Haygood and Matt Cavanaugh.

At Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago, George was an All-City quarterback and All-Catholic. He lettered as quarterback at Notre Dame in 1960 and 1961 before transferring to McNeese State for his final year of eligibility and graduation.

He was a member of the Baltimore Colts taxi squad in 1965 and was activated late in the season when the Colts lost John Unitas. George began his coaching career in 1966 by working with the quarterbacks at McNeese State. Next he spent two years as a high school coach at Lake Charles High in Louisiana, helping lead them to the Class AA title in 1967.

Johnny Majors named him to his Iowa State staff in 1969 in charge of quarterbacks, and two years later he was promoted to offensive coordinator where his attack was one of the best in the tough Big Eight. Haffner coached Cyclone quarterback George Amundson, the number-one draft pick of the Detroit Lions three years ago.

George and his wife, Norberta, have two children — Kevin 8 and Kristin 5.

Joe Avezzano Offensive Line Florida State '65

In his first year at Pitt, Joe Avezzano reorganized the Pitt offensive line from a slow, heavy group to a light, quicker squad that helped set an all-time offensive yardage record (3805), and opened the holes for Tony Dorsett's 1586-yard rushing season. Again last year, Dorsett went over the 1,000 yard mark with the help of Avezzano's young offensive line.

Joe believes in developing a close relationship with his players. He meets with his linemen weekly at his apartment, and depending on their game-grades, he even cooks one of his now infamous Italian dinners for them.

Born in Yonkers, N.Y., Avezzano graduated from Miami Jackson (Fla.) High School in 1961 with 11 letters in football, basketball and baseball. He was All-City in three sports, in addition to being class president and a member of the honor society.

In college, he lettered three years as a guard at Florida State, starring in the 36-19 Gator Bowl win over Oklahoma in 1965. Following graduation he played center for the Boston Patriots in 1966.

Avezzano began his coaching career at Massillon High School in 1967 and moved from there to Florida State as a graduate assistant in charge of the freshman offense. In 1969 he was named freshman coach at Iowa State and moved to the varsity staff as offensive line coach in 1970. He followed Johnny Majors to Pitt in December of 1972. Prior to that in 1971 he served as the offensive line coach of the North team in the North-South game in Miami. He also helped coach the North squad in the Lions American Bowl Game in Tampa, Florida in 1974.

During the football season, Joe hosts his own television show on a local Pittsburgh Cable TV station.

Joe and his wife, Diann, reside in the Mt. Washington area of Pittsburgh.

Jim Dyar Defensive Line Houston '67

One of the top recruiters on the staff, Jim Dyar is a likeable and very enthusiastic coach. A former Houston lineman, Dyar educates the Panthers' defensive linemen in the curriculum of the "trenches."

Jim communicates exceptionally well with his players. In his first season at Pitt, his front five helped produce great goal line series against both Tulane and Penn State. Jim Buckmon, starter for the California Sun of the WFL, was an alumnus of that group, as was Glenn Hyde, who started last year for the WFL's Chicago Fire and recently switched Leagues to join the NFL's Washington Redskins.

Last year, Dyar's defensive line stood firm including a game saving defensive stand in the final minute of the Navy game. Probably the most recognized name in last year's group was middle guard, Gary Burley. Burley became one of the most respected middle-guards in the country, earned All-America status, and was invited to play in most post-season all star games. Burley was the third-round draft pick of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Jim was born in Enterprise, Alabama, and graduated from high school in 1962 with 11 letters in football, basketball, track and baseball. He lettered twice in football at the University of Houston for Bill Yeomans at guard and tackle. Following graduation he was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons and played for their farm team at Huntsville, Alabama. There he was named the Most Valuable offensive player on the team and an All-League selection at guard.

He began his coaching career as a student defensive assistant at Houston for one year. He joined Johnny Major's staff at Iowa State in 1970 as defensive line coach and moved with Majors to Pitt two years ago.

Jim and his wife, Nancy, have two sons — David 12 and Wade 9.

Larry Holton
Head Junior Varsity Coach
Iowa State '70

A former player at Iowa State under Johnny Majors, Larry Holton begins his first season as head junior varsity coach after serving as a defensive assistant for two years on the Pitt staff.

Before coming to Pitt, Larry coached J. T. Thomas at Florida State, the Pittsburgh Steelers' first-round draft pick in 1973.

An All-State tailback at Keokuk High School in Iowa, he entered Iowa State in 1965. He was a three-year starter for the Cyclones as a defensive halfback his senior year under Coach Majors.

Following graduation from Iowa State in 1970, Larry began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Majors for two years. In 1972 he was named an assistant defensive backfield coach at Florida State, and a year later he joined the Pitt staff.

"Larry is one of the most outstanding young men I've had the pleasure to coach," Majors says. "He was one of the young men who helped establish pride in the program at Iowa State and now he's helping us to establish Pitt Pride."

Of this year's crop of incoming freshmen, Larry recruited two high school All-Americans, Al Chesley and Harold Cook, along with David Logan, a highly sought-after area recruit.

Larry is single and resides in the Frick Park area.

Harry Jones
Offensive Backfield
University of Arkansas '65

In his first year as a full-time assistant coach, former Arkansas All-American Harry Jones coached another All-American — freshman Tony Dorsett. Jones now faces the 1975 football season with one of the most explosive backfields in the country under his wing.

One of the finest running backs in the history of the Southwest Conference, Harry has brought that reputation and five years of professional football experience to the Pitt coaching staff.

He has established himself as quite a personality in the Pittsburgh area — he has been especially effective in communicating the "Major Change" to campus groups and alumni gatherings.

He started as an All-State quarterback at Enid High (Oklahoma), and then entered Arkansas in 1963. As a sophomore he was the starting defensive safety on Arkansas' 1964 undefeated National Championship team. His defensive backfield coach that year was Johnny Majors.

Harry switched to running back for his junior and senior years and was named All-Southwest Conference and first-team All America in 1965 and 1966. He led the nation in average per rush (7.7) in 1965 and also holds the team single game rushing record of 293 yards.

During his three years, Arkansas compiled a 29-3 record, won the National title in 1964, and played in two Cotton Bowl games.

Harry entered the coaching circles in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Oklahoma, after a pro-football career with the Philadelphia Eagles. He later served as assistant freshman coach at Arkansas before joining the Pitt staff with Johnny Majors in 1973.

Quite a trivia expert, Harry has guested on "Trivia Night" on the Myron Cope radio show.

Harry and his wife, Marilyn, have a son, Griff, 6.

Bob Leahy
Receivers
Kansas State Teachers College '70

A thinking man's football player and coach, Bob Leahy starts a new assignment on the Pitt staff as receiver coach, after serving as head junior varsity coach for two years. Last season, Leahy's Panther Cubs were undefeated with a 4-0 mark and produced fine talent for this year's Panther varsity, including quarterback Matt Cavanaugh, split end Willie Taylor and tight end Tim Padovese.

Leahy is a former Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback and honorable mention Little All-America at Kansas State Teachers College. He was referred to Pitt three years ago by one of his closest friends, Terry Bradshaw of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In college Bob was All-Conference for two years after an All-County and All Long Island career at Lindenhurst High in Lindenhurst, L.I.

Known by the Steelers as a Coach-on-the-Field, he is considered to have an outstanding football mind. Steeler coaches failed to stump Bob in their weekly quizzes on the X's and O's during his two-year professional career. At the beginning of the 1972 football season he was on the Steeler taxi squad and fought for the quarterbacking job with the Steelers' two Terrys — Bradshaw and Hanratty. In a pre-season game against the New York Giants, Bob started at quarterback and led the Steelers to a win over the Giants — including an 80-yard touchdown pass to Ron Shanklin.

In addition to his instructional duties on the Pitt coaching staff, he is also involved with analyzing films, scouting, and helping the quarterbacks.

In the off-season, he earned a Master's Degree last year.

Bob and his wife, Susan, live in the Allison Park area near Pittsburgh with their new daughter Kristin, who was born in March.

Joe Madden
Defensive Secondary
University of Maryland '57

Johnny Majors believes that his staff must constantly be salesmen for Pitt football. One of his best "salesmen" is Joe Madden who Majors calls the finest defensive secondary coach on the collegiate level.

Madden symbolizes the get-it-done philosophy. He works closely with the Pitt Golden Panthers and helped organize a tremendously successful weekly Booster group meeting in nearby Beaver Valley. Last year he helped organize the Downtown businessmen's weekly luncheons at the William Penn Hotel. At these weekly affairs, local businessmen talk Pitt football, view game films and hear coaches and players speak.

Joe lettered in boxing at Maryland after a football, boxing and baseball career at St. John's High School in Washington, D.C.

Following graduation from Maryland in 1957, he began his extensive coaching career — first as high school coach at Gonzaga High in Washington, D.C. He served as backfield coach at Father Lopez High in Daytona Beach, Fla. from 1959-61.

He then moved to the collegiate level in 1962 as scout squad coach at Mississippi State. He was named offensive backfield coach at Morehead State (Ky.) in 1963 and then went to Wake Forest as secondary coach from 1964-67.

Johnny Majors hired him as defensive secondary coach at Iowa State in 1968 where he remained for four seasons before being named defensive coordinator at Kansas State in 1972. He joined the Pitt staff with the arrival of Majors.

Joe and his wife, Janis, have four children — Kerry 13, Duffy 12, Casey 8, and Keely 7.

Bob Roper
Defensive Ends
Arkansas '65

Bowl games seem to follow Bobby Roper every where he goes. As a player and a coach, he has now been associated with seven collegiate bowl games. Bob has also coached more positions than any man on the present coaching staff — and this year, he's been switched to defensive end coach.

Roper has been part of three Cotton Bowl games, two Sugar Bowls, one Liberty Bowl and one Fiesta Bowl.

His football career began at Sherman High School in Sherman, Tex., where he captained both the football and basketball teams and was named All-Conference in both sports. From there he entered Arkansas where he lettered as a receiver both his junior and senior seasons and was named All-Southwest Conference in 1964 and 1965. The 1964 Arkansas team won the National Championship and during Bob's last two years the Razorbacks won 22 straight games.

Bob began coaching as a graduate assistant for two years at Alabama under Bear Bryant. In 1968 he was linebacker coach at Wichita, and from 1969-70 he served as backfield secondary coach at The Citadel. He moved to Virginia as secondary coach in 1971, and then served as secondary coach at Iowa State under Majors. He moved with Majors to Pitt.

This year he'll coach his old Arkansas position — defensive ends — after coaching the receivers last season. His receivers last year included Bruce Murphy, Todd Toerper, Karl Farmer and Jim Corbett.

Also an enthusiastic recruiter, Bobby's recruits include junior defensive tackle Al Romano and punter Larry Swider.

Roper, along with fellow coach Harry Jones, are country-western music buffs. Married, Bobby and his wife, Sue Ellen, have two sons — Dan 5 and Kurt 3.

Keith Schroeder
Scouting
Junior Varsity Assistant
Iowa State '71

When Johnny Majors hired Keith Schroeder as assistant coach in charge of the scouting program, he hired one of the finest defensive players in Iowa State history.

Schroeder called the Iowa State defensive signals for three years, and was named the outstanding junior on the Iowa State squad. His senior year he was picked by his coaches to receive the Reuben Miller Memorial Trophy as the senior who displayed the most leadership on and off the field. He is the co-holder of the record for the longest fumble return (62 yards) at Iowa State.

Keith made over 300 tackles at Iowa State, the highest recorded number in the school's history. He was All-Big-Eight, honorable mention All-America, tri-captain in the Sun Bowl and Most Valuable Player for the North Squad in the North-South Shrine game.

At West High School in Davenport, Iowa, he won six letters in football, wrestling and baseball. He was All-State in football and captained both the football and baseball teams.

Keith served as an assistant freshman coach at Iowa State before coming to Pitt with Coach Majors two years ago. Although he works with the defense during practice, Keith rarely sees his players in action because during the season, he's on the road scouting opponents for up-coming games.

He was born in Davenport, Iowa, where his father is a farmer. Keith is one of eight children.

He is single, and resides in Pennsbury Village.

Bob Matey Middle Guards Iowa State '72

Coaching middle guards and serving as a defensive coach should be natural for Bob Matey. He was, after all, one of Johnny Majors' defensive stars at Iowa State.

Matey was All-City for two years at nearby Chaney High School in Youngstown, Ohio. At Chaney, Bob lettered for three years at fullback. He was also elected to the All-Northeast Ohio team, and honorable mention All-State. The Chaney team lost only two games in those three years.

He entered Iowa State in 1968, in the first group of athletes that Johnny Majors recruited there — Bob was recruited to Iowa State by Joe Madden. Bob was the smallest defensive tackle in the Big Eight, but probably the quickest man on the Cyclone squad. He was a three-year regular for the Cyclones and was a starter on Iowa State's Sun Bowl team in 1971. He played his entire senior year with a severely hurt knee, but played probably his best game that year in the Cyclones 27-17 victory over Colorado.

He received his defensive coaching there from Jackie Sherrill and Jim Dyar. His Iowa state teammates included Larry Holton and Keith Schroeder.

Before coming to Pitt, Bob coached the freshman defensive line at Iowa State as a graduate assistant, and last year he served as a junior varsity assistant to Bob Leahy's Panther Cubs, as well as a varsity defensive assistant.

His recruiting in the Youngstown area has provided the Panthers with center John Pelusi, and quarterback Matt Cavanaugh.

Both of Matey's brothers were All-City at Chaney High, and his brother, Ed, is now the head football coach at Chaney — where he coached both Pelusi and Cavanaugh.

Bob is single, and lives in the North Hills — with a very large basset hound named Doogan.

Henry Lee Parker Coordinator of Recruiting Mississippi State '48

Coach Johnny Majors bolstered his program this past August by naming a long-time friend and experienced football administrator, Henry Lee Parker, to his staff as a full-time Recruiter.

Parker brings with him to Pitt a wide range of experience on nearly all levels of football. A native of Holly Springs, Miss., he played both football and baseball at Mississippi State. Following graduation in 1948, he began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Corinth High School in Mississippi and then served as Head Coach and Athletic Director at Natchez High School (Miss.) from 1949-55.

From there Parker moved into the collegiate ranks as an assistant coach and administrative assistant to the head coach at Mississippi State from 1956-66. On that same staff with him was none other than Johnny Majors.

Henry has spent the past eight years in professional football. He served as Personnel Scout of the New Orleans Saints from 1968-73. When the World Football League was formed last year, he was named Vice President of Football Operations and he served in that capacity until this past February when he joined the California Sun as Vice President in charge of Football Operations.

"Johnny Majors and I have been friends for many years and I'm looking forward to working with him," Henry noted in July. "I've really missed college athletics and I'm delighted to be getting back into a strong program."

Majors, obviously, was just as pleased.

"Henry Lee has been a good friend for many years, and he has a very valuable athletic background of working with people," Majors said.

He is married, and he and his wife, Martha, have two daughters — Susan 23, and Kathy 17.

They Care for the Athletes

Dr. James McMaster Head Team Physician

The University of Pittsburgh has long been recognized as having one of the nation's outstanding Medical Schools, so it only makes sense that Pitt athletes get medical treatment second to none.

Dr. James McMaster directs treatment of the Panther football athletes. He is an assistant professor of orthopedic surgery at the Medical School and heads a team of physicians and trainers who operate the University's Division of Sports Medicine.

This Sports Medicine Division, in addition to caring for the athlete, has recently established a program in cooperation with the Physical Education to train and certify athletic trainers. An undergraduate course of study this year, post-graduate students will be able to participate next year. There are only two other universities in the country with such an extensive program.

Dr. McMaster also serves on a Pa. Health, Education, and Welfare Committee which set guidelines for athletic trainers' qualifications and has published several articles on the care and prevention of athletic injuries.

Once again, a Monday through Friday, injury and illness clinic will be in operation this year in Pitt Stadium from 8-9.30 A.M. It will be staffed by Dr. McMaster on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday; by Dr. Mary Clark on Wednesday; and former Pitt football star, Dr. H. 'Woody' Hazer, on Friday. X-Ray and lab facilities are available in the Stadium.

More serious treatment will be referred to Presbyterian-University Hospital directly across the street from the Stadium.

Tim Kerin Football Trainer

Tending to the players' injuries, setting up training tables, and itineraries, are all duties carried out by football trainer Tim Kerin.

The 1969 graduate of Indiana University (Pa.) supervises a staff of student trainers and coordinates the off-season training program for the football players.

Coming out of Wilmerding, Pa.'s Westinghouse Memorial High School in 1965, where he served two years as student trainer, Tim operated as Indiana's head student trainer for four years. He moved to Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh as head trainer for three years before joining the Pitt staff.

Holding a Master's from Indiana, Tim will begin his fourth year at Pitt.

Kerin is assisted by Kip Smith (Kip is also the head basketball trainer). Both trainers also instruct in the Sport Medicine curriculum at the University. They have had four articles on weight training published in various athletic and training magazines.

Kerin and his wife, Mary Lou, have twins — George and Amy Lyn, both one-year-old.

Roger McGill Athletic Equipment Supervisor

Roger McGill's association with Pitt goes back to 1946, both as a student and trainer. Graduating from Pitt in 1950, he joined the faculty as an assistant trainer and received his Master's in Education in 1951. For 12 years he studied corrective and adaptive therapy, logged more than 500 clinical hours, and established the first adaptive course at Pitt.

After professional stints with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Pirates, he returned to Pitt in 1968 as an associate trainer and supervisor of equipment.

He has concentrated on equipment supervision the last two years. Married, he and his wife, Ethel, have four children — Roger Jr., Keith Allen, Brian Douglas, and Michele.

William 'Boo' Connors Equipment Manager

'Boo' Connors has served as Pitt football equipment manager for a decade, beginning with Dave Hart's team that sported Ralph Cindrich and Charlie Hall. He has been with Pitt for 19 years overall. Over those years, 'Boo's' favorite team has been the 1964 basketball team featuring Tim Grgurich, Brian Generalovich and Cal Sheffield. He says his all-time favorite athlete is Tony Dorsett.

'Boo' is a lifelong resident of Pittsburgh where he graduated from Central Catholic High School. Along with his wife Catherine, Boo resides in Shadyside. They have four children: William 27, Judith 23, Tom 20 (who plays football at Potomac State College), and Cynthia 18. Boo also has three grandchildren.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

When Johnny Majors took the head football coaching job at Pitt, he noted that the University had three major ingredients to help produce a winning program -- an outstanding schedule, a strong winning tradition, and a large stadium.

With a seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval shaped stadium is a good one for viewing football.

The interior of the 50-year-old bowl is now painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the red-brick colored 440-yard all weather Tartan track. This past summer, seven sections of gold aluminum seating were installed, adding comfort and brightness to give Pitt Stadium an eye-catching appearance.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were taken out to provide better access to all of the seats. The stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. Besides the football field, facilities include a band room, a 440-yard track, dressing rooms, and a reception room.

The first game was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee, 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games in the stadium. The single-game attendance record was set in 1938 when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the stadium to see Pitt top Fordham, 24-13. The one-season attendance record was set in 1956 when 239,718 people watched the Panthers in five games. The average game attendance of 47,944 is also a stadium record.

Pitt leads in the overall series, 15-13-2, and has, in fact, never trailed in the series . . . last year's 21-13 Panther win marked the first win since 1960 at Archbold Stadium . . . last season's game saw Pitt fullback Bob Hutton have one of his finest days with 62 yards rushing on 12 carries . . . Tony Dorsett added 67 yards on 16 tries . . . last year Syracuse averaged just 10 points per game while permitting 25 . . . Maloney says, "we'll hang our hat on our defense. We appear greatly improved in this area. Offensively, we'll throw more."

Notre Dame features a new look this season in the person of Coach Dan Devine, who replaces Ara Parseghian . . . Devine compiled a collegiate record of 120-40-8 at Arizona State and Missouri before spending the last four years as head coach of the Green Bay Packers in the NFL . . . Devine must completely rebuild his offense where only one regular returns from last year's 10-2 team.

PANTHAER RECORDS & STATISTICS

Eighty-Five Years of Panthers

Pitt football began when the University was known as the Western University of Pennsylvania in 1890, but the Panthers did not begin their march into the front line powers for another decade.

In 1904 the Western University of Pennsylvania eleven, had its first winning streak. Sparking this team was Joe Thompson, of World War I fame.

He took over as coach after his graduation, and in 1910 turned out an undefeated, untied, and unscored on eleven.

In 1914 under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers prepared for the event of Pop Warner, by losing only one game.

Not until mid-1919 did the Blue and Gold bow in intercollegiate competition. Thirty-two consecutive victories were recorded.

In 1916 the Pitt team came up with an innovation, for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers, under Warner, were the first to wear numbers.

During this period the first All-American appeared. Bob Peck, in 1915 and 1916 was rated as one of the great All-Time All-Americans at center, Tom Davies, at halfback, and Leonard Hilty, at tackle, in 1918 were some other stars of the era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard by the name of Jock Sutherland, the 1917 captain and end; Dr. H. C. Carlson, for 31 years head coach of basketball at his alma mater; and Tiny Thornhill, who went on to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Perfect seasons were out after 1919, but they still were winning years. Herb Stein, a center, joined the list of All-Americans, and Harvey Harmon played a lot of tackle.

In 1924, Jock Sutherland began a 15 year regime, which started slowly but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Only 20 games were lost during this period, and another 11 were tied. Eastern titles came in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934 and 1937. Four times the Panthers showed in the Rose Bowl, winning the final game in 1937 against Washington.

All-Americans during the period were Ralph Chase in 1925 at tackle, Gibby Welch at halfback in 1927, Mike Betto at tackle in 1928, Ray Montgomery at guard and Joe Donchess at end in 1929, Jess Quatse at tackle in 1931, Warren Heller at halfback in 1932, Joe Skladany at end in 1933, Doc Hartwig at guard and George Shotwell at center in 1934, Averell Daniell at tackle in 1936, Marshall Goldberg at halfback and Tony Matisi at tackle in 1937, and Goldberg and Bill Daddio at end in 1938.

On the All-American rolls since Sutherland were Ralph Fife in 1941, Bernie Barkouskie in 1949, and Joe Schmidt in 1952, all guards; Eldred Kraemer, a tackle in 1952, Joe Walton, a unanimous choice at end in 1956, guard John Guzik in 1958 and end Mike Ditka in 1960.

Sutherland left in 1938 and the Pitt power fell off for the next ten years. Charley Bowser was succeeded by Clark Shaughnessy who held sway during World War II. Wes Fesler brightened the picture in 1946, and was followed by Mike Milligan who turned in the first winning teams of a decade in both 1948 and 1949.

When Milligan resigned in 1950, Len Casanova came in to take over for that year, but left the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over as head coach, and then in January of 1952 Lowell Dawson was named.

Dawson won six including Notre Dame, Army, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa among the victims, and lost three.

In 1954 ill health caused him to give up football coaching in mid-season, and Tom Hamilton took over as head coach and put the team on a winning basis.

After the season he stepped down to turn the team over to Johnny Michelosen.

A 7-3 record, featuring decisive upset wins over Duke at Durham and over West Virginia before a capacity crowd in Pittsburgh, brought a Sugar Bowl invitation, and a close defeat by Georgia Tech at New Orleans that didn't hurt the Panther's national ranking.

The Panthers went to the Gator Bowl in 1956, after a 7-2-1 season, and again lost to Georgia Tech 21-14.

In 1957, Pitt was 4-6, in 1958, 5-4-1, in 1959 finished with a 6-4 record and had a 4-3-3 record in 1960.

In 1961, Pitt was 3-7, the most disastrous record since 1951. In 1962, the record was 5-5

In 1963, Pitt finished with a 9-1 mark and was ranked third in the country.

After losing seasons in 1964, 3-5-2, and 1965, 3-7, Michelosen was succeeded by Dave Hart.

Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads did not perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a hard look at its football program, and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in 10 years (6-4-1) and its first bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that to a 7-4 mark and a second-place ranking in the East in his second year.

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917, and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953 being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917, teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, and 1937; eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest days until his very sudden death in the spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his sudden death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history. These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is president of the Goldberg-Emmerman Corp. in Elk Grove Village, Ill.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917, a school record, and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his inter-collegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Now a highly successful business executive, Stein owns and operates nine corporations. He resides in Cleveland.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the late Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks second in the all-time total yards gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died two years ago.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-American team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

Since graduation, he has become an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served last year as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death two years ago, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

Pitt Ranks 5th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that hol est of grails in college football -- the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Theasaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below, the University of Pittsburgh is 5th to properly rank as one of the nation's all time great football names.

Panthers on the Air

Pitt football will be beamed this fall via both radio and television throughout Pennsylvania and into the surrounding States.

On radio a professional, first-class two-man broadcasting team will call the action for a 20-station plus network, originating with WTAE (1250) in Pittsburgh. 'Voice of the Panthers', Bill Hillgrove of WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, begins his second year as football play-by-play man. Hillgrove is joined by nationally known TV analyst John Sauer who is also beginning his second year on the team.

The past several years, Hillgrove has gained a reputation as one of the State's most knowledgeable sportscasters. He joined the Pitt broadcasts six years ago as the color man on the football games, and for the past five years has been the Voice of Pitt Basketball as play-by-play man.

In addition to his play-by-play duties, Hillgrove will also host the three weekly Johnny Majors radio and TV shows. He holds a bachelor's degree in radio/TV journalism from Duquesne University.

Former NFL analyst, Johnny Sauer, joined the Panther radio team last year to analyze the action and provide color commentary. Sauer was an analyst with CBS-TV for 12 years and was also associated with the Hughes Sports Network from 1970-72. He has worked numerous bowl games including the Gator, Astro Blue-Bonnett, Cotton, Tangerine, Blue-Gray, and Fiesta Bowl. Earlier he served as sports director of WING Radio in Dayton, Ohio, from 1957-71.

Sauer is a 1946 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy where he was a classmate of Pitt Chancellor, Dr. Wesley Posvar, and a football teammate of Pitt Athletic Director, Cas Myslinski. He has a long list of coaching and administrative credentials — backfield coach at West Point from 1947-49, backfield coach at Florida from 1950-52, backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams from 1953-54, athletic director and head coach of The Citadel from 1955-56, assistant coach of the College All-Stars from 1959-65, and head coach of the All-Stars in 1966 and 1967.

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE Radio will carry pre-game and post-game locker room Johnny Majors' shows. The 10-minute pre-game show will immediately precede all Pitt broadcasts, and the 15 minute post-game locker room show will be carried at 5:45 p.m. each Saturday following the game.

WTAE-TV (Channel 4) in Pittsburgh and WHP (Channel 21) in Harrisburg will carry the weekly half-hour Johnny Majors' TV Show, featuring highlights of game action, discussions of strategy with Majors, and visits from Pitt players and assistant coaches.

The show will be carried on WTAE-TV at 12 noon Sunday, and on Monday evenings following the Action News report. WHP will air the show at 11:15 p.m. Sunday.

On the Scene: Bill Hillgrove, left, and John Sauer give Pitt an outstanding radio broadcasting team that is heard over a 20-station plus network.

Memo to Press-Radio-TV

This brochure has been prepared for the members of the working press, radio and television who have so ably covered the Pitt athletic scene in the past years. We are appreciative of their interest and attention, and it is hoped this brochure will assist them in their coverage of the Pitt football team.

Contents of this booklet and changes in personnel and plans will be supplemented before and during the season by the Sports Information Office. If you desire additional information, services, or material, contact:

Director's Home Telephone:

PRESS BOX: Accommodations in the press box will be furnished to representatives of Pittsburgh district papers, metropolitan papers filing for Sunday editions, press services, Pittsburgh radio and TV sports commentators, and scouts from schools playing either Pitt or its opponent. Requests should be made in advance, indicating whether or not Western Union or Sports Com services will be needed. The press gate is Gate #11.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline passes will be issued to Pittsburgh papers, news services, daily papers normally covering the opposing team, and student publications of the two schools. Photographers may not work in front of the bench and must stay behind the line and obey the instructions of the officer detailed to the area. Space on the photographers deck is reserved for newspapers in the same manner as field passes, and also for newsreel and game movie cameramen. This space must be requested in advance to insure adequate space. Field photographers should enter Gate #3. Photographers covering from the stand should use Gate #11.
